

Analytic Bioethics in Europe

28-29 May 2014 – Ghent, Belgium (venue TBA)

Organised by Bioethics Institute Ghent
Funded by the Society for Applied Philosophy

28 May

9:00 Welcome

9:15 Jeff McMahan (Rutgers University)
Respect for Human Dignity and Assisting Others to Commit Suicide

10:05 Coffee

10:35 Simon Rippon (Central European University)
Reflective Equilibrium in Bioethics: It's Not What You Almost Certainly Think It Is

12: 25 Tom Douglas (University of Oxford)
Enhancement and Praiseworthiness

13:15 Lunch

14:30 PhD Student (open call)

15:10 Ezio Di Nucci (University of Duisburg-Essen)
Consent Ain't Anything

16: 00 Coffee

16: 30 Katrien Devolder (Ghent University)
Complicity after the Fact: Responding to Past Unethical Research

17: 20 End of day 1

19:30 Dinner

29 May

09:30 Stephen Wilkinson (Lancaster University)

What Can Analytic Philosophy do for Bioethics?

10:20 Coffee

10:50 Ingmar Persson (University of Gothenburg, University of Oxford)

Understanding and Undermining the Asymmetry between Starting Good and Bad Lives

11: 40 Muireann Quigley (University of Bristol)

Regulating Health (Choices): Nudges as Health Policy Instruments

12: 30 Lunch

13: 50 Axel Gosseries (Université Catholique de Louvain)

Health care and age limits

14:40 James Wilson (UCL)

TBA

15:30 Coffee

16: 00 PhD Student (open call)

16: 40 Concluding remarks